“Changes”

by Alex Kochkin

These essays are presented for their value to anyone who cares about the future as humanity prepares to make the greatest shift in consciousness and existence ever. We cover a wide range of topics including social-values research, “future-views”, the world situation, and advanced spiritual perspectives.

“GLOBAL AWAKENING means individuals and communities becoming aware of and embracing their true nature – one of interconnectedness, service, and spirituality, as we express extraordinary dimensions of our larger being. “

Changes

Dear Friends and Readers

These days have been one of “holding ones breath” as well as upset for so many. As readers of GA News, these events have been predicted. Those who have followed postings at the NES forums, know that this is only the beginning of the end of the ways things have been in the world that is most linked to the Anglo-US economic system.

We wish to be very clear that it does not matter whether this or that legislation is passed or not, the economic crisis has been anticipated for a long time and is presently being engineered to rapidly concentrate the greatest amount of global wealth in all forms into the hands of a global elite in the shortest period of time possible. This is not the first such engineered financial crash, but it is likely the last.

We are anticipating serious global repercussions to the arrogant and foolhardy military campaigns and other short term military acts.

Add to this some significant earth change events from the latter part of this year, through 2009 and further on.

The cumulative effect of all this will be to limit oppressive internal policies in various countries, limit the projection of military power, and further hasten the decline of the old social and economic order.

We are about to see a major re-shuffling and further concentration of power and wealth. This will come at the immediate and near-term expense of people all over the world, especially those most closely tied to the Anglo-USA-Euro power groups. When all is done, the secret of ownership behind the world wealth will be a more apparent to many more than at present, and yet at the same time the deeper truths will be more obscured.

What will be obscured will be the truth of the powers that be who are the very top of the global elite. The top echelon are not the heads of the major corporations, for richly compensated as they are, these people are generally not the true powers-that-be. Most of those individuals are not publicly known and rarely make their presence known outside of their immediate upper tier circles. Remember that nations never truly had national sovereignty and that presidents, monarchs and parliaments really do not call the shots. They never have.

From time to time, evidence may surface indicating factions among the global elite. At times this may appear as one national position versus another or one multi-trillion corporation dickering with another over control of other large corporations. There is no reason to cheer for any of them.

The merging of corporate and state instruments of control is one of the hallmarks of fascism as a form of social control.

As mentioned, this is likely the last such economic crisis. Engineered as it may be, it also marks the unraveling of traditionally what has been the matrix control system.

More importantly it is coming at a time when the powers that be are preparing for levels of change in existence that they can barely fathom, even with all their power and technology. These involve changes to the planetary and space environment that have little or nothing to do with human carbon emissions, etc. These changes also involve the vibrational state of reality.

As we look ahead to the end of the rule by the identifiable global elite, there is still the serious matter of the memes and energetics of their system as well as the deeper influences of the non-corporeal dark forces. These influences have had a cumulative effect, causing profound damage to humans, to humanity, and have mostly been to socially and spiritually subjugate everyone under its thrall.

This latter concern will quickly become an issue of discernment as humans seek new ways to be with one another and this planet.

Will humans reify the old ways of the power of capital and private property? Or will humans find new modes of cooperation with one another and their planet? To what extent will humans reach in to their deeper nature as spiritual beings connected to original Source?

The graph above is from "Time Wave Zero" and covers the period from present through 2012. The first shaded area represent a period of dramatic change from early October 2008 through Early December 2008. This and related work will be discussed in greater depth in the "fall issue" of Global Awakening News.

A Spiritual Response

By Alex Kochkin

Please bear in mind my “bias” favors spiritual growth and spiritual evolution and that implies vibrational changes to existence, not following doctrines or gurus. Each has their own path, and some coincide eventually with that of others. Humans are spiritual beings and it is from connection to higher self and original Source that humans can be informed as to how to be and how to learn to evolve as spiritual beings first and foremost.

It is my sense that those who can move on in their spiritual growth and evolution must do so. If you choose this, there is nothing and no one to wait for, and one cannot look back. To look back is to become frozen in place. The ripple effect of the forward movement will be of great service as it will free many more who will “take flight” and enter new states of spiritual awareness that can also inform ones day-to-day existence. The multiplying effects of the awakening of some, then more, will have a powerful influence upon even more. It is what could be called approaching “escape velocity”. This is the awakening.

My primary concern is not with humans learning to live in peace, not polluting their environment, and cooperating instead of conflicting, etc. Of course this is possible once the human powers-that-be have lost their collective control over humanity. It is more than possible for this to occur within one generation following a period of ongoing hardships and conflicts. Yet what would have changed? Humanity would still be imprisoned - like a global version of Denmark or some new age version of an equally “Orwellian” or “Huxleyian” future. The imprisonment I refer to has to do with imbedded memes. In the Matrix movies, all that was accomplished was that the Matrix was corrected and put on a new and happier visage. Nothing changed otherwise. In most all the futuristic movie stories, humans are just like they are now and few behave with some ethical rules of conduct that they seem to usually need to be reminded of.

From my perspective, one core problem is that humanity will do what humanity will do (and has been programmed to do by the dark at many levels). At its current level of awareness, humans are not accessing higher spiritual energies. Until enough of the old ways and attachments are let go of, this cannot happen. Thus there is some responsibility on the part of humanity and that humans must acknowledge what is wrong and learn why.

Given the current state of humanity, there are no ordinary earthly human solutions that can solve the profound problems that humanity is faced with. In some ways one could say this is a cosmic fail-safe designed to catalyze a portion of humanity to make a great leap – a state-change.

The impetus and the means for transformational change are extra-dimensional and extra-planetary. By this I am not referring to an ET “rescue”, rather to the cumulative effects of incoming powerful energies for a transformation of existence. This will in turn trigger a resonance response with those most prepared. The human vehicle is basically sound. But it needs a new “operating system” – this would apply to the energy bodies as well as the thought-fields.

In response to growing crises of many forms, some humans will form cooperative modes, some will continue to throw their lot in with the dominant elite, some will fight the system, and others will focus on their own survival over the greater good. And some will focus on spiritual evolution as they continue to detach from the old.

Without spiritual awakening, and given the state of “damage” to humanity, there will be some short term responses to the growing crises that will help some people through this difficult period, and so it is possible that humanity can continue on through the near term decades.

From a compassionate perspective, it is understandable but nevertheless unfortunate that so many people remain fixated by the pronouncements and thought control of the powers-that-be. This is evident by the amount of energy that people waste on such things as the presidential circus, over the recent financial legislation, perpetual war, and of course myriad other issues and distractions such as illusions of social advancement within the matrix system.

From a compassionate perspective, it is understandable but nevertheless unfortunate that so many people, who probably regard themselves as aware and knowledgeable, can be fooled into believing fanciful stories of economic rescue, claims that there will be no depression, that peace and prosperity are imminent, and a host of other nonsense, including that "ET's" will come to humanity's rescue.

Given the state of global meme-control too many people still believe the falsehood that presidents and parliaments make the “big decisions” and that there really are nations with national interests. The only level at which humans can initiate change is at a local level, depending on locale and population size. Local community is going to be the primary social collective unit.

During a period of roughly one decade from the early 1990's through the early 2000's there were many opportunities for potential leaders to come forward in cooperation in aid of humanity's transition. However, these individuals for the most part preferred to serve their own selfish interests. Many of these are the very people who continue to promote themselves as “wise elders” in self serving new age/new thought videos and conferences and television appearances. In actuality, these people are creating a new façade for the powers-that-be and the dark forces, whether they are deliberate in this or just heedless to their perfidy.

Humanity has been so contaminated and programmed by false memes of contrived religions, of the right of capital and private property, and of twisted notions of right and wrong, good and evil. It is no wonder there is such confusion and upset. These memes at overt and subtle levels are significant systemic poisons that over time can give rise to variations of elite rule over others. And so how might it be possible for humanity to grow, to evolve, if not spiritually? That has always been an ever-present option, albeit suppressed. So as the present order of society breaks down, humans will be forced to try new ways.

It will be through that process and perhaps the span of one or two generations, that it might be possible for humanity to find its way to its next stage of evolution as spiritual beings.

Yes, there are many who consciously or unconsciously are requesting the old ways to break down, for various types of catastrophes to occur. Some are doing this for twisted reasons, some are calling this in because it is the only way for humans to learn by dramatic contrast that the old paradigm ways of being are no good and cannot serve any good.

It is my sense that some will proceed ahead of the evolutionary curve. It is already happening. As the possibilities exist to guide and inspire others, then more will take the path of spiritual evolution. The more this occurs over time, the humans will be exposed to higher vibrational states of existence and a corresponding ways of being that implies.

Eventually more will rediscover an innate freewill that was long suppressed and their own higher spiritual nature will eventually inform their beingness and actions. This is the most positive outcome I can anticipate at this point that is also the least catastrophic.

People must leave their old ways behind. The more they replicate the old patterns, the more difficult the transformational process will be for them.

It is so understandable that so many will be in a state of conflict with themselves, the recent past, with one another, and so much more. So many people will be finding life too surrealistic, the purpose to their lives that they have been taught will be seen as a lie, and there will be much shock and upset. These are all attachments that do not serve our future.

So I end this letter to you all, as it started.

It is my sense that those who can move on in their spiritual growth and evolution must do so. If you choose this, there is nothing and no one to wait for, and one cannot look back. To look back is to become frozen in place. The ripple effect of the forward movement will be of great service as it will free many more who will “take flight” and enter new states of spiritual awareness that can also inform ones day-to-day existence. The multiplying effects of the awakening of some, then more, will have a powerful influence upon even more. It is what could be called approaching “escape velocity”. This is the awakening.

Preparedness

In preparing for a major natural disaster, try to avoid the epicenter as much as possible, have enough necessities on hand for at least one month, and do not expect the government to be of any help.

Local community preparedness is most important and a community of individual households who are well prepared is best. The same applies to a financial depression.

A large wave of bank failings is imminent, the FDIC has no money to cover their depositors. Best to have a month or more of cash readily at hand and do not keep a total of more than $50,000 in any one bank for an entire household. The paper “markets” will never recover. A few clever individuals will manage to fleece a large number of less clever individuals. So why put yourself in further jeopardy by hoping what is unfolding is not really happening?

For those who have limited financial resources, it is important to consider all options.

Cooperative undertakings among local community is the only workable option. There are resources which local communities can avail themselves of. In many cases it will require one locale to form cooperative ties with other locales. The sooner people pay attention to this and begin a new process, the sooner people will find new ways to be with each other and the planet.

Our article on awakened community was prepared roughly one year ago to provide guiding principles for all levels of “community” in anticipation of this period we are now in.
